Office of Campus Life

New STUDENT ORGANIZATION HANDBOOK

Dear ENMU Student Organization,

Eastern New Mexico University (ENMU) is committed to student success. An integral part of your success as a student is being invested in the University—the best way to get invested is to get involved! Involvement in student organizations is a great way to build leadership skills, meet new people and not to mention, have fun! Recognizably, the Office of Campus Life is excited for another year with student organizations!

The ENMU Student Organization Handbook has been established for the purpose of assisting student organization leaders. It is a valuable resource for organization officers, advisors and members. The information is intended to help new student organizations “get started,” help existing organizations continue to grow, assist advisors and officers in their leadership roles, as well as explain rules and guidelines for student organizations. Student organization members and advisors are responsible for becoming familiar with the contents of this handbook, and for following all University policies, rules and regulations, as they pertain to student organizations.¹

If you or your organization need anything, please contact the Office of Campus Life.

We look forward to a successful year,
Office of Campus Life

Effective Student Organization Tips

Common Officer Description

President (required):

- Conducts all meetings in an unbiased manner, and allows all member voices to be heard.
- Often needs to meet with the advisor prior to executive meetings or general group meetings to develop a plan for the academic year reflecting the ideas and input of the membership, while adhering to all University policies that impact the organization.
- Willing to attend all events and functions, and dedicating as much time as needed to the organization.
- Accountable for funds.
- Accurately represents the organization to the University and public.
- Motivate members to remain active, recruit and participate.
- Make ethical decisions.

Vice President:

- Will assume the duties of the President in case of absence, resignation or incapacity.
- Typically oversees all committees or special projects as the organization liaison, offering assistance to other officers for all projects.
- Perform other duties as directed by the president.

Secretary:

- Responsible for the written records of the meeting, including typing the agenda; typing, preparing and distributing minutes
- In some organizations, also responsible for press releases, making advertisements, or a club scrapbook/Facebook page.

Treasurer (required):

- Responsible for collection, safekeeping and expenditure of all funds in the organization account.
- Report accurate financial record of authorized transactions, balances and funds.
- Collect and disburse funds only as directed by law, all applicable ENMU policies, and the organization membership.
- In some organizations, also in charge of fundraising events.

All officers need to attend all general group meetings, executive officer meetings, as well as organization functions. When an organization expands it is natural to have more officers or committee heads to shoulder the additional demands on current officers.

Meetings

Typically groups meet biweekly or monthly, and have executive meetings twice as often to make sure information is prepared for the general meetings. Groups decide how often they will meet and what activities they plan.

- Sample Schedule:
- Monthly general meetings
- Monthly major activity
- Bi-weekly executive meetings

At meetings the officers should facilitate both fun and productive for those attending.

Student organizations officers who need help in creating a standard for their organization can consult with the director of Campus Life.

Community Service Events

Each organization will submit community service documents to the Office of Campus Life. The Campus Life office will record the details of each organization's community service projects, including a brief description, recipients/beneficiaries of the project's services, location, time and total hours. It is highly suggested that all effective student organizations participate in community service. The president of ENMU is proud of organizations that participate in community service, and is delighted to publicize their works through different media outlets.

Student Organization Web Access/Email

Web Access

Student organizations wanting free web space to host their official organization web page can do so on the student server or any other web host provider. All rules and regulations for using the ENMU website or any electronic media must be followed.

Campus-Wide Email

Campus wide emails are permitted to all active/recognized organizations. The following format must be used for your email:

Sponsoring Organization: (Organization Name)

Event:

Date:

Time:

Location:

Highlights: (benefits, prizes, etc.)

Agency Accounts

An agency account is an account that is held by the University for an organization. An organization's money is deposited in an ENMU account and checks are issued from ENMU on behalf of the organization. ENMU is the fiscal agent for the organization's agency account, therefore, University policies and procedures must be followed. With an agency account, transactions are recorded on ENMU's general ledger, thus providing a history of activity. Also, when following ENMU purchasing guidelines, an agency account falls under the umbrella of the University's tax exemption status.

As part of University guidelines, individuals cannot be reimbursed for purchases; a purchase order must be used to order from a vendor. If members of the organization plan to travel, a Travel Voucher must be completed.

To Open an Agency Account:

- Schedule an appointment with the ENMU Business Office.
- Obtain a request form from the Business Office. Complete and sign the form—two student officers and the advisor need to sign. Return the form to the Business Office. This form will need to be updated each time there is a change in officers or advisor.
- Within five University business days the registered student organization will be assigned an account number.

To Make Deposits:

- Obtain deposit slips from the cashier.
- Complete the deposit slips – make sure the account number is correct.
- Write the account number on the back of each check.
- Take the deposit slip and deposit to the cashier between 8 a.m.–4 p.m., Monday through Friday.
- Please allow one university business day for the deposit to be posted to the account.

Purchases and Payments:

- University purchasing guidelines must be followed. If you have questions, please call Purchasing before making any purchases.
- Obtain a requisition form from the ENMU Business Office.
- Complete the requisition form. It is preferred that the form be typed with the complete name and address of the vendor. Give a complete description of the item to be purchased.
- The requisition needs to be signed by one of the two students listed on file at the Business Office and the advisor.

* The requisition will not be processed if there is not enough money in the account to cover the request.
