

Weekly Tech Tip: Your own personal E-Portfolio

Students, Faculty, and Staff may get to their own personal e-portfolio by logging into my.enmu.edu and then clicking My Profile located next to the Portal Sign-out on the top right corner of the Portal Homepage.

Its functionality and usage is similar to Portal Communities, to which an introduction manual can be found Here

An e-Portfolio is a collection of work (evidence) in an electronic format that showcases learning over time. An e-Portfolio may contain all or some of the following:

- Files of various formats (text, pictures, video, etc.)
- Evidence related to courses taken, programs of study, etc.
- Writing samples (which might include several drafts to show development and improvement)
- Projects prepared for class or extracurricular activities
- Evidence of creativity and performance
- Evidence of extracurricular or co-curricular activities, including examples of leadership
- Evaluations, analysis and recommendations

Different ways to use the ENMU e-Portfolios

Showcase/Professional e-Portfolios— these e-Portfolios are primarily a way to demonstrate (showcase) the highlights of an individual's academic and/or professional career.

Learning e-Portfolios— these portfolios are typically created by a student as part of a course as a way to demonstrate learning and the learning process.
